PERSONAL STATEMENT

I'm Abdul Raheem, a passionate beginner in software engineering, currently exploring and building my skills in programming and development. Although I've just begun my journey, I'm committed to learning, experimenting, and growing every day. With curiosity as my driving force, I aim to create projects that not only improve my skills but also add real value.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Frontend Development Intern

TBOX – July 2025 to September 2025

- Gained hands-on experience in front-end development using modern frameworks and tools.
- Explored back-end development concepts to build an understanding of full-stack workflows.
- Collaborated on real-world projects, enhancing problem-solving and coding practices.
- Improved ability to write clean, responsive, and user-friendly code.
